

David Thomasson – Callide Mine General Manager & SSE

David is a resources industry Professional with significant operational, technical and leadership experience who has delivered significant safety and business improvement solutions in major Australian mining operations.

David has extensive experience leading large complex mining operations in the Queensland coal fields with up to 1,200 employees. David's previous experience is in both open pit and underground mining operations, including holding senior statutory responsibility.

Recently David was General Manager & SSE at Coronado's Curragh mine, and previously has had several Technical Services Manager roles at Anglo Coal's Dawson, Dendrobium and Grosvenor Mines and Rio Tinto's Kestral Mine. David also held General Manager Operations roles at QCoal's Sonoma complex and Coronado's Curragh Mine.

David holds a Bachelor of Technology from the University of Southern Queensland, a Graduate Certificate in Engineering from University of Queensland and Senior Site Executive Notice from the Queensland Mines Department Board of Examiners.